GREENWOOD SCHOOL REPORT

1922-23

To the Superintending School Committee and Citizens of Greenwood:

Of the nine teachers in town, five returned to us at the beginning of the present school year. This is a better record than usual. There has been quite a shifting of school population. When this happens during term time, it affects the average attendance unfavorably, making a poor looking record.

Scarlet fever appeared in three districts, but came mostly in vacation time so that school attendance was not affected greatly by it. Unfortunately, three cases proved fatal.

There have been some rumors concerning the part played by text-books in spreading disease. The facts are that books used by children having the disease have all been burned, the other books in the building have been disinfected with the building, and no books at all have been taken from the building to other schools.

Three schools have had shed and toilets fitted up to comply with the recent State law. Five others need the change, but two can wait another year. Appropriations under repairs should be sufficient to care for the other three.

Some unexpected changes occurred at or near the end of the fall term, but all schools are getting along very well now or have prospect of doing so as soon as they open up in the spring. Suspension of school at Gr. City for eight weeks and three weeks at Shadagee takes eleven weeks of expense of a school out of the past year's expenditures to be added to next year's. This should be considered in making appropriations.

Recommendations, school accounts and school statistics will follow.

I wish hereby to thank the superintending school committee for hearty co-operation during the year.

Respectfully submitted,

F. E. RUSSELL,
Superintendent of Schools.
